CMS.gov | Hospital Quality Reporting

Announcement from the Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services (CMS):

An update is coming to the Hospital Quality Reporting (HQR) System. As of August 19th, Reporting Requirements will be renamed Submission Requirements.

To find this page, log into HQR and navigate over to the sidebar. Select Program Reporting, and then click Submission Requirements. The page will have a note that says 'Formerly Reporting Requirements' below the title.

What does this mean for you? Anything you would normally find on the Reporting Requirements page will now be available on Submission Requirements. You will still be able to access your IPFQR Provider Participation Report via the Submission Requirements. Simply select IPFQR from the Program dropdown and the year you wish to view from the Fiscal Year dropdown.

Questions? Watch a short video about the new Submission Requirements page.

As the HQR System continues to improve, any changes will be communicated.
